I got them from Amazon for a promotional giveaway. Recommended for ages 6 and up I actually have kids younger than 6 and they found them a fun game to play! They had a blast! Go to our website to learn more about us, you will find many fun activities for your kids, toddlers and babies. If you want to learn more about me, you can read more about my life in my biography here. Sunday, September 6, 2012 We celebrated the 10th Anniversary of our second baby's birth today! :) His name is Spencer and he was born on September 6, 2002. We took a long weekend trip with our friends to some beach towns in Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine. We had a blast! This picture was taken at Sugarloaf in Maine. We rented a cabin for the weekend. Our first day, we had breakfast at the Bean Yard in North Truro. It's a wonderful small restaurant with a wonderful view of the Cape Cod Bay. The lobster roll is to die for! We stayed at the Scenic Cottage in Sandwich. The house is quaint and charming. We had an amazing view of the harbor. We also visited Hampton Beach and went to The Mews in Cape Cod. It is a pet-friendly store that sells pet supplies. It was the cutest store. This is the view of the Ocean from the third floor deck. It was a beautiful view. This is a picture of the beach in Truro, MA. We stayed at the Cape Inn in Truro. The outside area is very pretty and overlooks the ocean. We rented kayaks and had a great time. That's me in the picture with Spencer. We even enjoyed a cold refreshing Molson's. There were only 4 of us for dinner that night, so we couldn't have a get together at the Inn. It was nice that our friends were close by. We had a delicious dinner at a little restaurant called Speidel's. The owner cooks in his restaurant and we enjoyed delicious desserts. We were each served with a cupcake. This is the ocean in Provincetown. It was a beautiful morning. This is an aerial view of the beach in Provincetown. This is the view from the deck at the Cape Inn. We enjoyed our visit at the beach and went out for dinner one night. 82157476af
